

PZ

8
3

C76Fr

FT MEADE
GenColl

A FROGLAND WEDDING

TO OUR CHILDREN = THAT THEY = MAY FIND MANY HAPPY MOMENTS IN THIS BEAUTIFUL POETRY, PICTURE AND SONG OF
HAPPY FROGLAND.

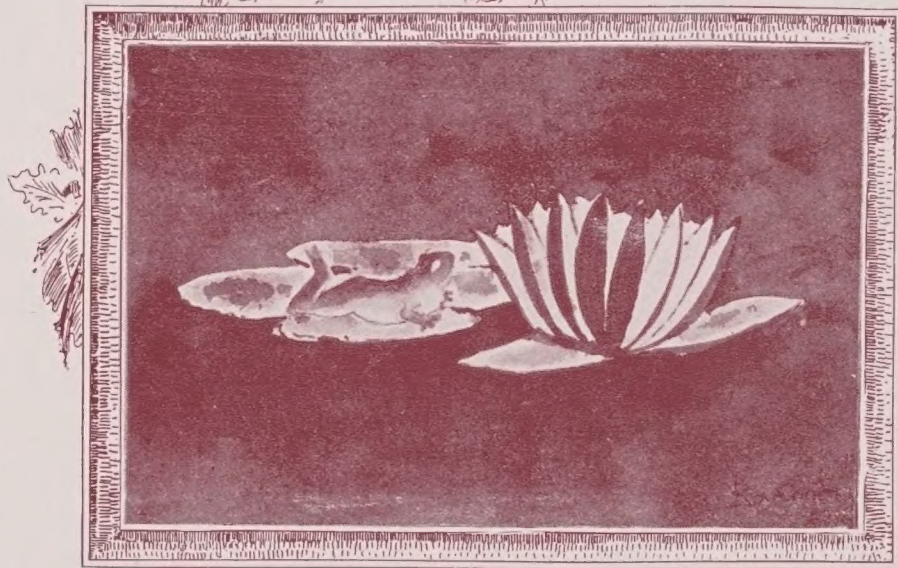

Chicago: LAIRD & LEE, Publishers

533

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS.

PZ8
Chap. 3 Copyright No. _____
Shelf C46F7

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A FROGLAND WEDDING

The Froggie would a wooing go Whether his mother would Let him or no."

Words and Illustrations
by Roy Conder
Music by Helen Hitchcock

CHICAGO:
LAIRD & LEE,
PUBLISHERS.

54078 Z'

(1894)

PZ₈
3
C76
Fr

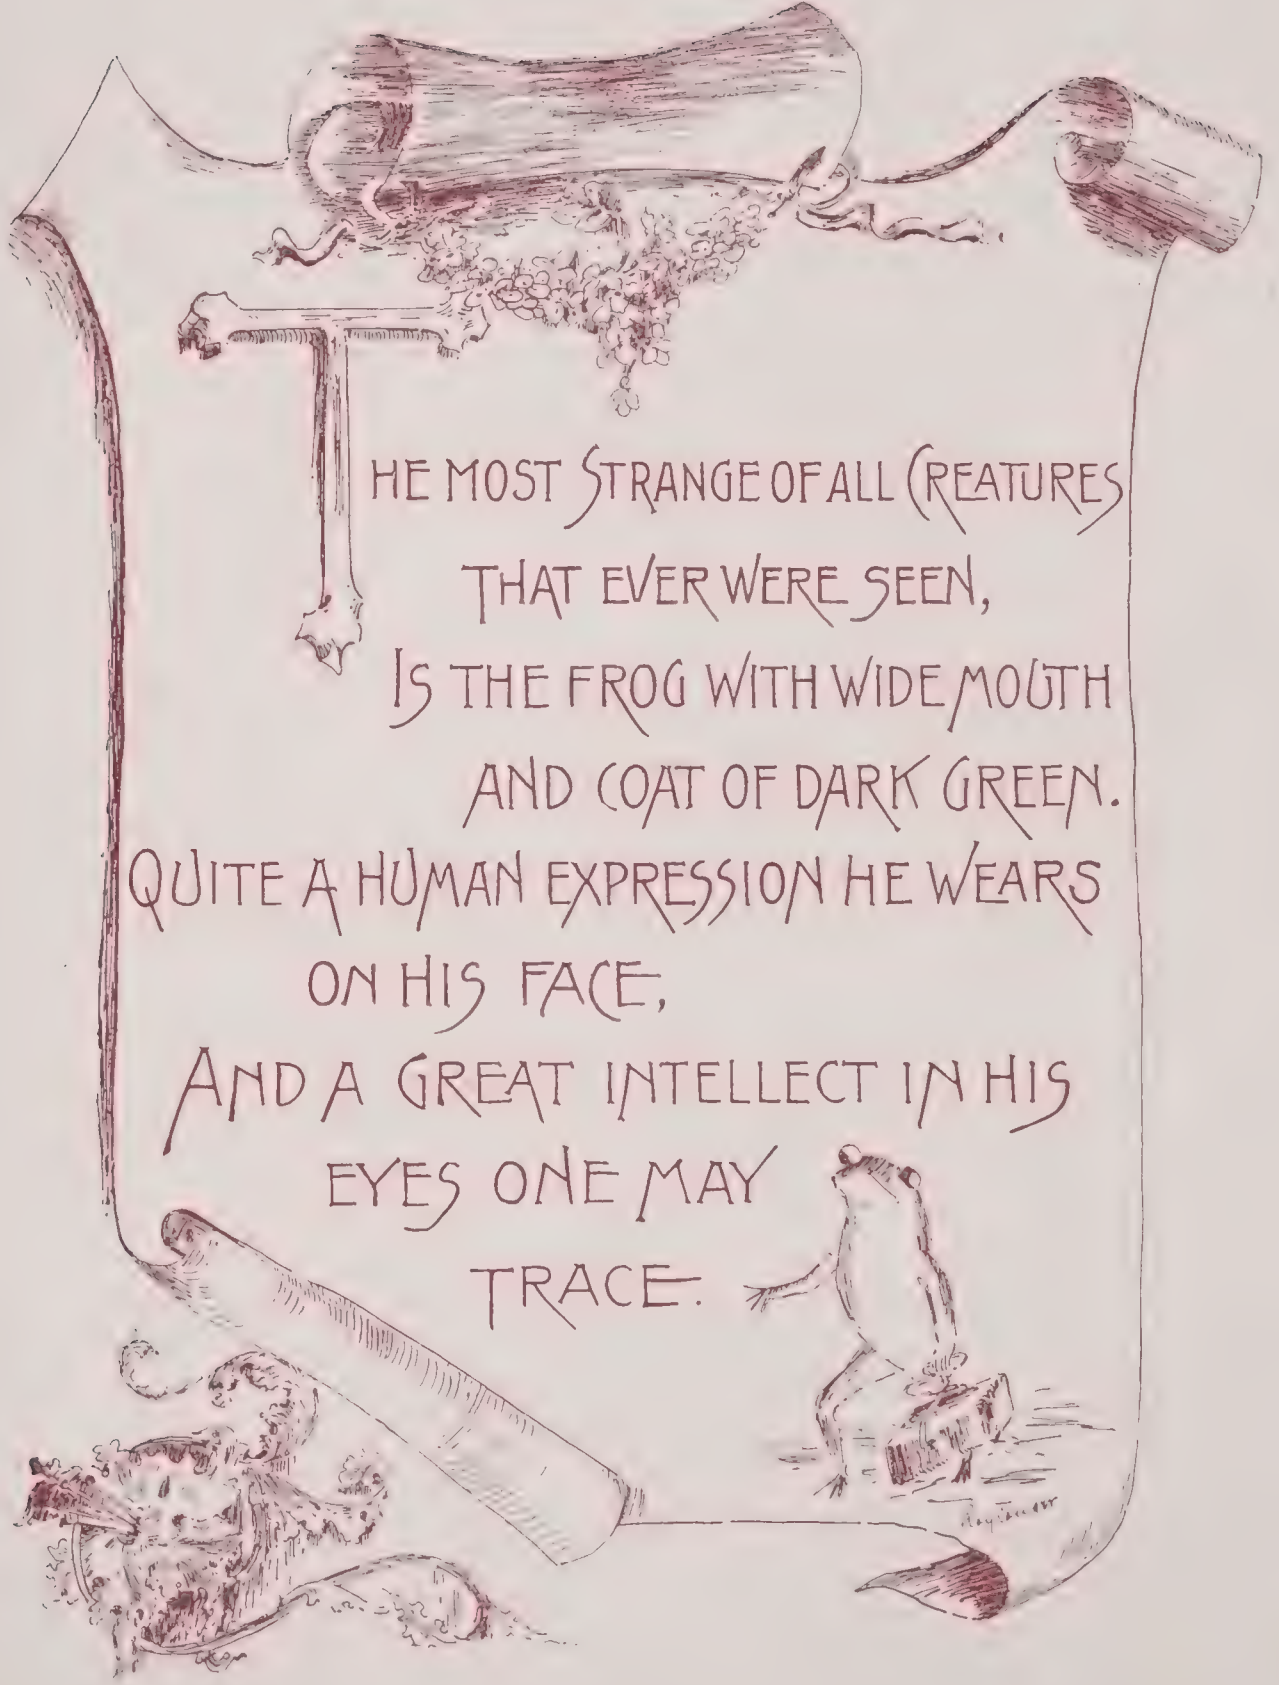

Entered according to Act of Congress in the year eighteen hundred and ninety-four by

WILLIAM H. LEE,

In the office of the Librarian of Congress at Washington.

(ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.)

THE MOST STRANGE OF ALL CREATURES THAT EVER WERE SEEN, IS THE FROG WITH WIDE MOUTH AND COAT OF DARK GREEN.
QUITE A HUMAN EXPRESSION HE WEARS ON HIS FACE, AND A GREAT INTELLECT IN HIS EYES ONE MAY TRACE.

OR FROM ANY PROFESSION'S
A BULL FROG EXEMPT:

HE IS SURE OF SUCCESS IN MOST ANY ATTEMPT

AS AN ARTIST, MUSICIAN OR LAWYER PROFOUND

AS MAGICIAN OR DOCTOR!

HE'S KOWN THE WORLD ROUND

AN ODD VILLAGE OF THESE HAD GROWN UP NEAR A SWAMP, WITH OLD LAWS AND OLD CUSTOMS
OFT CALLING FOR POMP;
NOR WAS AUGHT EVER LACKING
IN THAT QUAIN'T OLD PLACE, TO INCREASE OUR RESPECT FOR THIS VERSATILE RACE.

ONCE A YOUNG DIGNITARY
QUITE MADE UP HIS MIND, SINCE A FROGGESS MOST (HARMING HE'D BEEN ABLE TO FIND
WHO LIKE BARKIS WAS WILLEN THAT HE'D EARLY BRING HIS OLD BACHELOR DAYS TO AN END WITH A RING.

NOW, IN ORDER APPLAUSE
OF HIS OLD FRIENDS TO WIN, WITH A WEDDING PROCESSION
THE DAY MUST BEGIN;
ALL OLD RITES AND OLD FASHIONS
MUST BE DULY OBSERVED WITH A BALL TO COME
AFTER DINNER'D BEEN SERVED.

AT THE HOME OF THE BRIDE
THE GREAT WEDDING TOOK PLACE;
THE FOND GROOM BROUGHT THE RING
THE BRIDE'S FINGER TO GRACE:
THE OLD PRIEST DID HIS PART,
AND THE PAIR WERE MADE ONE:
THEN EACH GUEST KISSED
THE BRIDE ERE THE DINNER BEGUN.

ULLEST JUSTICE WAS DONE TO TEN COURSES OR MORE.
AS THEY DINED AND THEY WINED
THEY HAD MUSIC GALORE.
AND THE GROOM SMILED DELIGHTED,
THE BRIDE LOOKED DIVINE,
AS THE GUESTS DRANK TO EACH
IN THE FINEST OF WINE.

NOW THE FEAST BEING O'ER, TO
THE BALL ROOM ALL PASS;
EVERY FROG WHIRLS HIS PARTNER
ON VELVETY GRASS:
THEN THEY WANDER IN COUPLES EXCHANGING FOND LOOKS, OR WHISPER SOFT NOTHINGS
IN DIM LEAFY NOOKS.

ILL A GLOW IN THE SKY WARNS
OF DAYS NEAR APPROACH,
WHEN EACH GALLANT YOUNG FROG
FINDS HIS TRUE LOVE HER COACH; AND, IN LEAVING, HE BIDS HER
A TOUCHING FAREWELL,

IN THE HOPE OF SOON HEARING
HIS OWN WEDDING
BELL.

MUSIC—A FÊTE IN FROGLAND.

The most strange of all creatures that ev - er were seen, Is the Once a young dig - ni - ta - ry quite made up his mind. (Since a Full-est jus - tice was done to ten cours - es or more; As they frog with wide mouth and coat of dark green. Quite a frog - gess most charming he'd been a - ble to find, Who like dined and they wined, they had mu - sic ga - lore; And the hu - man ex - press - ion he wears on his face, And a Bar - kis "was will - in",) that he'd ear - ly bring His old groom smiled de - light - ed, the bride looked di - vine, As the NOTE:—Music runs through three verses and then repeats for next three, etc.

great in - tel - lect in his eyes one may trace. Nor from bach - el - or days to an end with a ring. Now, in guests drank to each in the fin - est of wine. Now, the an - y pro - fess - ion 's a bull - frog ex - empt; He is or - der ap - plause of his old friends to win; With a feast be - ing o'er, to the ball room all pass; Ev' - ry sure of suc - cess in most an - y at - tempt. As an wed - ding pro - cess - ion the day must be - gin; All old frog whirls his part - ner on vel - vet - y grass: Then they ar - tist, mu - si - cian, or law - yer pro - found, As ma-rites and old fash - ions must be du - ly ob - served, With a wan - der in coup les, ex - chang - ing fond looks, Or gi - cian, or doc - tor, he's known the world round. An odd ball to come af - ter the din - ner'd been served. At the whis - per soft noth - ings in dim, leaf - y nooks. Till a vil - lage of these had grown up near a swamp, With old home of the bride the great wed - ding took place, The fond glow in the sky warns of day's near ap - proach, When each laws and old cus - toms oft call - ing for pomp; Nor was groom brought the ring the bride's fin - ger to grace: The old gal - lant young frog finds his true love her coach; And, in aught ev - er lack - ing in that quaint old place, To in - priest did his part, and the pair were made one; Then each leav - ing, he bids her a touch - ing fare - well, In the crease our re - spect for this ver - sa - tile race.

guest kissed the bride, ere the din - ner be - gun.
hope of soon hear - ing his own wed - ding bell.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

00025466366

